NOTICE OF <<VARIABLE HEADER>>

Dear <<Name 1>>:

Pedersen Worldwide, LLC (“Pedersen Worldwide”) and its subsidiaries are writing to inform you of a recent event that may impact the privacy of some of your information. We are providing you with this letter as a precaution, to inform you of the event, our response, and steps you may take to protect your information, should you feel it is necessary to do so.

What Happened? Pedersen Worldwide identified unusual activity on certain servers and systems on March 30, 2022. We immediately launched an extensive investigation and began working with third-party forensic specialists to determine the nature and scope of the activity. Through the investigation, we determined that an unauthorized party gained access to certain systems viewed and/or downloaded certain information from those systems. We then conducted a comprehensive review of information stored on the impacted systems to determine what information, if any, was affected and to whom the information related. We then conducted a manual review of our records to determine the identities and contact information for potentially impacted individuals. On or around April 21, 2022, we completed our review.

What Information Was Involved? Our review determined that the following types of information were present in the affected systems and could have been impacted by the unauthorized party: your name, <<breached elements>>.

What We Are Doing. The confidentiality, privacy, and security of personally identifiable information within our care is among Pedersen Worldwide’s highest priorities. Upon discovery of the unusual activity, we immediately took portions of our network offline and commenced an investigation that included working with third-party forensic specialists to understand the nature and scope of the event. We also notified federal law enforcement about this event. As part of our ongoing commitment to the security of information, we are also reviewing and improving existing policies and procedures.

Although we do not have any indication of identity theft or fraud as a result of this incident, we are offering complimentary credit monitoring and identity restoration services through TransUnion for twenty-four (24) months as an added precaution.

What You Can Do. As a precaution, we encourage you to remain vigilant against incidents of identity theft and fraud by reviewing your account statements, and to monitor your credit reports for suspicious activity. Please review the enclosed “Steps You Can Take to Protect Personal Information”, which contains information on what you can do to better protect against possible misuse of your information.

Monitor Your Accounts

Under U.S. law, a consumer is entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. To order your free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. You may also directly contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below to request a free copy of your credit report.

Consumers have the right to place an initial or extended “fraud alert” on a credit file at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a 1-year alert that is placed on a consumer’s credit file. Upon seeing a fraud alert display on a consumer’s credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer’s identity before extending new credit. If you are a victim of identity theft, you are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting seven years. Should you wish to place a fraud alert, please contact any one of the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below.

As an alternative to a fraud alert, consumers have the right to place a “credit freeze” on a credit report, which will prohibit a credit bureau from releasing information in the credit report without the consumer’s express authorization. The credit freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in your name without your consent. However, you should be aware that using a credit freeze to take control over who gets access to the personal and financial information in your credit report may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application you make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit. Pursuant to federal law, you cannot be charged to place or lift a credit freeze on your credit report. To request a security freeze, you will need to provide the following information:

1. Full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.);
2. Social Security number;
3. Date of birth;
4. Addresses for the prior two to five years;
5. Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill;
6. A legible photocopy of a government-issued identification card (state driver’s license or ID card, etc.); and
7. A copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft if you are a victim of identity theft.

Should you wish to place a credit freeze, please contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below:
