Subject: Notice of Data <<Variable Text 1: Breach or Security Incident>>

Dear <<First Name>> <<Last Name>>,

I am writing to inform you of a data security incident experienced by Quo Vadis Financial Management, LLC (“Quo Vadis”) that may have affected your personal information. We take the privacy and security of all information within our possession very seriously. Please read this letter carefully as it contains information regarding the incident and steps that you can take to help protect your information.

What Happened. On September 26, 2022, Quo Vadis discovered suspicious activity associated with one of our email accounts. In response, we took immediate steps to secure our email environment and promptly launched an investigation. In so doing, Quo Vadis engaged independent digital forensics and incident response experts to determine what happened and to identify any personal information that may have been impacted. On October 13, 2022, we received confirmation that one employee email account was accessed without authorization. We then engaged a vendor to review the mailbox to identify impacted items likely to contain personal information. As a result, on January 13, 2023, Quo Vadis learned that certain personal information may have been accessed or acquired without authorization. Following a thorough review of all personal information contained in the mailbox, identification of all potentially impacted individuals, and verification of current mailing addresses for the individuals, it was confirmed on February 7, 2023, that your information may have been accessed or acquired as a result of the incident.

Notably, we have no evidence of the misuse or attempted misuse of any potentially impacted personal information.

What Information Was Involved. The information potentially impacted in connection with this incident included your name as well as your <<insert data sets>>.

What Are We Doing. As soon as Quo Vadis discovered this incident, we took the steps described above. In addition, Quo Vadis implemented measures to enhance the security of its email environment in an effort to minimize the risk of a similar incident occurring in the future.

STEPS YOU CAN TAKE TO HELP PROTECT YOUR INFORMATION

Review Your Account Statements and Notify Law Enforcement of Suspicious Activity: As a precautionary measure, we recommend that you remain vigilant by reviewing your account statements and credit reports closely. If you detect any suspicious activity on an account, you should promptly notify the financial institution or company with which the account is maintained. You also should promptly report any fraudulent activity or any suspected incidence of identity theft to proper law enforcement authorities, your state attorney general, and/or the Federal Trade Commission (FTC).

Copy of Credit Report: You may obtain a free copy of your credit report from each of the three major credit reporting agencies once every 12 months by visiting <http://www.annualcreditreport.com/>, calling toll-free 1-877-322-8228, or by completing an Annual Credit Report Request Form and mailing it to Annual Credit Report Request Service, P.O. Box 105281, Atlanta, GA 30348. You also can contact one of the following three national credit reporting agencies:

Equifax

P.O. Box 105851
Atlanta, GA 30348
1-800-525-6285
www.equifax.com

Experian

P.O. Box 9532
Allen, TX 75013

TransUnion

P.O. Box 1000
Chester, PA 19016

Fraud Alert: You may want to consider placing a fraud alert on your credit report. An initial fraud alert is free and will stay on your credit file for at least one year. The alert informs creditors of possible fraudulent activity within your report and requests that the creditor contact you prior to establishing any accounts in your name. To place a fraud alert on your credit report, contact any of the three credit reporting agencies identified above. Additional information is available at <http://www.annualcreditreport.com>.

Security Freeze: You have the right to put a security freeze on your credit file for up to one year at no cost. This will prevent new credit from being opened in your name without the use of a PIN number that is issued to you when you initiate the freeze. A security freeze is designed to prevent potential creditors from accessing your credit report without your consent. As a result, using a security freeze may interfere with or delay your ability to obtain credit. You must separately place a security freeze on your credit file with each credit reporting agency. In order to place a security freeze, you may be required to provide the consumer reporting agency with information that identifies you including your full name, Social Security number, date of birth, current and previous addresses, a copy of your state-issued identification card, and a recent utility bill, bank statement or insurance statement.

Additional Free Resources: You can obtain information from the consumer reporting agencies, the FTC, or from your respective state Attorney General about fraud alerts, security freezes, and steps you can take toward preventing identity theft. You may report suspected identity theft to local law enforcement, including to the FTC or to the Attorney General in your state.
