NOTICE OF [SECURITY INCIDENT] / [DATA BREACH]

Dear Sample A. Sample:

Considine & Considine writes to inform you of a recent incident that may impact the privacy of some of your information. Considine & Considine takes this event very seriously and the confidentiality, privacy, and security of information in Considine & Considine's care is one of our highest priorities. We are writing to provide you with an overview of the incident, our response, and resources available to help further protect your information, should you feel it appropriate to do so.

What Happened?

On June 8, 2022, Considine & Considine discovered some potentially suspicious activity on an employee's email account. Considine & Considine immediately took steps to ensure the security of the email account and launched an investigation into the nature and scope of the event. While the investigation is still ongoing, it was recently determined that an unauthorized actor had potentially accessed certain Considine & Considine email inboxes between December 17, 2021 and June 8, 2022. While there is no evidence that suggests any information from these mailboxes was acquired or misused by the unauthorized actor, Considine & Considine commenced a review of these mailboxes determine what information may be involved. On September 6, 2022, Considine & Considine determined the individuals whose information was present within these mailboxes and took prompt steps to provide this notice.

What Information Was Involved?

While the investigation is ongoing, we are notifying you out of an abundance of caution as the review of the mailboxes determined that your information may be at risk. The information related to you includes your name[, / and] [Extra 1].

What We Are Doing.

Considine & Considine takes this event on the security of information in our care very seriously. Upon discovering the event, Considine & Considine moved quickly to respond: ensuring the security of their email tenant, investigating the nature and scope of the event, reviewing the relevant email accounts, and notifying individuals whose data may be at-risk. As part of our ongoing commitment to information security, Considine & Considine is assessing and validating the security of our email, reviewing our technical safeguards, policies, procedures, and employee training program to reduce the likelihood of similar events from happening in the future. We are also notifying the relevant regulatory agencies of this event, as required.

As an added precaution, Considine & Considine is offering you [12/24] months of credit monitoring through Experian at no cost to you. Enrollment instructions can be found in the enclosed Steps You Can Take to Help Further Protect Personal Information. Please note, you must enroll in the complimentary credit monitoring yourself as Considine & Considine is unable to do so on your behalf.

What You Can Do.

We encourage you to remain vigilant against instances of identity theft and fraud by reviewing your account statements and monitoring your free credit reports for suspicious activity and to detect errors. Additionally, we are providing information on how to obtain an IRS Identity Protection (“IP”) PIN to further reduce the likelihood of tax fraud. Please review the enclosed Steps You Can Take to Help Further Protect Personal Information, which includes information on obtaining an IP PIN and additional information on what you can do to better protect your personal information against misuse, should you feel it appropriate to do so. Considine & Considine also encourages you to enroll in the complimentary credit monitoring we are offering.

For More Information.

Considine & Considine understands you may have questions about this incident that are not addressed in this letter. If you have additional questions, please contact our dedicated assistance line at (833) 281-4833 toll-free Monday through Friday from 8 am - 10 pm Central, or Saturday and Sunday from 10 am - 7 pm Central (excluding major U.S. holidays). Be prepared to provide your engagement number [Engagement Number]. You may also write to Considine & Considine at 8989 Rio San Diego Drive, Suite 250, San Diego, CA 92108.

We sincerely apologize for any inconvenience this event may cause. Sincerely,

Monitor Your Accounts

Under U.S. law, a consumer is entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. To order your free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. You may also directly contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below to request a free copy of your credit report.

Consumers have the right to place an initial or extended “fraud alert” on a credit file at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a 1-year alert that is placed on a consumer’s credit file. Upon seeing a fraud alert display on a consumer’s credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer’s identity before extending new credit. If you are a victim of identity theft, you are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting seven years. Should you wish to place a fraud alert, please contact any one of the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below.

As an alternative to a fraud alert, consumers have the right to place a “credit freeze” on a credit report, which will prohibit a credit bureau from releasing information in the credit report without the consumer’s express authorization. The credit freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in your name without your consent. However, you should be aware that using a credit freeze to take control over who gets access to the personal and financial information in your credit report may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application you make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit. Pursuant to federal law, you cannot be charged to place or lift a credit freeze on your credit report. To request a credit freeze, you will need to provide the following information:

1. Full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.);
2. Social Security number;
3. Date of birth;
4. Addresses for the prior two to five years;
5. Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill;
6. A legible photocopy of a government-issued identification card (state driver’s license or ID card, etc.); and
7. A copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft if you are a victim of identity theft.

Should you wish to place a credit freeze, please contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below:

Internal Revenue Service Identity Protection PIN (IP PIN)

You may also obtain an Identity Protection PIN (IP PIN) from the Internal Revenue Service, a six-digit number that prevents someone else from filing a tax return using your Social Security number or Individual Taxpayer Identification Number. The IP PIN is known only to you and the IRS, and helps the IRS verify your identity when you file your electronic or paper tax return. Even though you may not have a filing requirement, an IP PIN still protects your account. If you do not already have an IP PIN, you may get an IP PIN as a proactive step to protect yourself from tax-related identity theft either online, by paper application or in-person. Information about the IP PIN program can be found here: <https://www.irs.gov/identity-theft-fraud-scams/get-an-identity-protection-pin>.

Additional Information

You may further educate yourself regarding identity theft, fraud alerts, credit freezes, and the steps you can take to protect your personal information by contacting the consumer reporting bureaus, the Federal Trade Commission, or your state Attorney General. The Federal Trade Commission may be reached at: 600 Pennsylvania Avenue NW, Washington, DC 20580; www.identitytheft.gov; 1-877-ID-THEFT (1-877-438-4338); and TTY: 1-866-653-4261. The Federal Trade Commission also encourages those who discover that their information has been misused to file a complaint with them. You can obtain further information on how to file such a complaint by way of the contact information listed above. You have the right to file a police report if you ever experience identity theft or fraud. Please note that in order to file a report with law enforcement for identity theft, you will likely need to provide some proof that you have been a victim. Instances of known or suspected identity theft should also be reported to law enforcement and your state Attorney General. This notice has not been delayed by law enforcement.

For New Mexico residents, you have rights pursuant to the Fair Credit Reporting Act, such as the right to be told if information in your credit file has been used against you, the right to know what is in your credit file, the right to ask for your credit score, and the right to dispute incomplete or inaccurate information. Further, pursuant to the Fair Credit Reporting Act, the consumer reporting bureaus must correct or delete inaccurate, incomplete, or unverifiable information; consumer reporting agencies may not report outdated negative information; access to your file is limited; you must give your consent for credit reports to be provided to employers; you may limit “prescreened” offers of credit and insurance you get based on information in your credit report; and you may seek damages from violator. You may have additional rights under the Fair Credit Reporting Act not summarized here. Identity theft victims and active-duty military personnel have specific additional rights pursuant to the Fair Credit Reporting Act. We encourage you to review your rights pursuant to the Fair Credit Reporting Act by visiting www.consumerfinance.gov/f/201504_cfpb_summary_your-rights-under-fcra.pdf, or by writing Consumer Response Center, Room 130-A, Federal Trade Commission, 600 Pennsylvania Ave. N.W., Washington, D.C. 20580.
