NOTICE OF [VARIABLE HEADER]

Dear Sample A. Sample:

Flatirons Solutions, Inc. ("Flatirons") is writing to inform you of a recent event that may impact some of your data. While there is no evidence of actual or attempted misuse of your information, in an abundance of caution, we are providing you with information about this event, our response, and the steps you may take to further protect your information against identity theft and fraud, should you feel it necessary to do so.

What Happened? On January 1, 2023, Flatirons was alerted to some anomalous activity on our corporate computer network. Flatirons moved quickly to secure the systems and launched an investigation, with the assistance of third-party cybersecurity specialists, to determine the full nature and scope of the event. While the investigation is ongoing, it was recently determined that between December 15, 2022 and January 1, 2023, an unauthorized actor gained access to Flatirons corporate network and data from certain systems may be impacted.

Flatirons then undertook a thorough review of the impacted systems to determine what data may have been impacted and to whom it relates. On February 23, 2023, the investigation determined that some of your information was present on the affected systems. If your dependents' information was also impacted, they will receive a separate letter regarding this incident.

What Information Was Involved? The information related to you that may be impacted includes your name, date of birth, Social Security number, financial account information, and health insurance information.

What We Are Doing. The privacy and security of your information is among our highest priorities. Upon discovering the event, Flatirons moved quickly to respond and investigate the event, assess the security of our systems, and notify potentially impacted individuals. Additionally, Flatirons reported this event to federal law enforcement and are assisting in their investigation. As part of our ongoing commitment to information security, we are currently reviewing our protocols, policies, and procedures to reduce the likelihood of a similar event from occurring in the future. We are also notifying appropriate regulators, as required.

As an added precaution, Flatirons is also offering you ## months of complimentary credit monitoring through Experian. Enrollment instructions can be found in the attached Steps You Can Take to Further Protect Your Information. Please note, you must enroll in credit monitoring yourself as Flatirons is unable to do so on your behalf.

What You Can Do. We encourage you to remain vigilant against incidents of identity theft and fraud by reviewing your account statements and monitoring your free credit reports for suspicious activity and to detect errors. Please review the enclosed Steps You Can Take to Further Protect Your Information, which includes additional information on what you can do to better protect your information against misuse, should you feel it necessary to do so. Additionally, Flatirons encourages you to enroll in the complimentary credit monitoring being offered.

For More Information. Flatirons understands that you may have questions about this event that are not addressed in this letter. If you have additional questions, please contact our dedicated assistance line at (833) 708-2890, Monday - Friday from 7 am to 9 pm MT, or Saturday - Sunday from 9 am to 6 pm MT (Excluding major U.S. holidays). Monitor Your Accounts

Under U.S. law, a consumer is entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. To order your free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. You may also directly contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below to request a free copy of your credit report.

Consumers have the right to place an initial or extended “fraud alert” on a credit file at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a 1-year alert that is placed on a consumer’s credit file. Upon seeing a fraud alert display on a consumer’s credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer’s identity before extending new credit. If you are a victim of identity theft, you are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting seven years. Should you wish to place a fraud alert, please contact any one of the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below.

As an alternative to a fraud alert, consumers have the right to place a “credit freeze” on a credit report, which will prohibit a credit bureau from releasing information in the credit report without the consumer’s express authorization. The credit freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in your name without your consent. However, you should be aware that using a credit freeze to take control over who gets access to the personal and financial information in your credit report may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application you make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit. Pursuant to federal law, you cannot be charged to place or lift a credit freeze on your credit report. To request a security freeze, you will need to provide the following information:

1. Full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.);
2. Social Security number;
3. Date of birth;
4. Addresses for the prior two to five years;
5. Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill;
6. A legible photocopy of a government-issued identification card (state driver’s license or ID card, etc.); and
7. A copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft if you are a victim of identity theft.

Should you wish to place a credit freeze, please contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below:
