Re: Notice of Potential Data Security Incident

Dear <<First_Name>> <<Last_Name>>:

We are writing to provide you with information about a cybersecurity incident involving personal information about you. While we have no evidence of identity theft or fraud involving this information, out of an abundance of caution, we are sharing details regarding the incident and providing information that you may find helpful.

What Happened? NPA experienced a cybersecurity incident involving unauthorized access to certain of our systems in late February 2023. Upon discovery, we immediately took steps to lock down impacted systems, notified federal law enforcement, worked with leading outside advisers including a cyber forensics team to investigate the incident, and deployed enhanced 24/7 detection and monitoring technology. Once the incident was contained, we initiated a review to identify whether personal information may have been present in files that were affected during the incident.

What Information is Involved? Our review determined that the potentially exposed files may have contained some personal information about you, including your <<b2b_text_1(name, data elements)>>.

What Are We Doing? As noted above, we promptly took action to lock down our systems, notify federal law enforcement, investigate this incident with a leading cyber forensic team, and deploy enhanced monitoring technologies. As a result of these steps, we were able to quickly recover from this incident to bring our operations back online to be able to host auctions for our customers. We have also been working continuously with our teams of experts to address this incident and take any additional steps needed.

What You Can Do. Though we have no evidence of identity theft or fraud involving your data, it is always good practice as a general precaution to be vigilant against identity theft and fraud by reviewing your account statements and monitoring any available credit reports for unauthorized or suspicious activity, and by taking care in response to any email, telephone or other contacts that ask for personal or sensitive information (e.g., phishing). You may also review the attached Steps You Can Take to Help Protect Your Information as a helpful resource.

Out of an abundance of caution, we are also providing for you complimentary credit monitoring and identity protection services for 24 months. These services include Experian IdentityWorksSM. To activate these services, you may follow the instructions included in the attached Steps You Can Take to Help Protect Your Information.

For More Information. For further information, please call (866) 347-1294 during the hours of 8:00 am and 5:30 pm CT, excluding major U.S. holidays.

Sincerely,

National Powersport Auctions

Monitor Your Accounts

Under U.S. law, a consumer is entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. To order your free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. You may also directly contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below to request a free copy of your credit report.

Consumers have the right to place an initial or extended "fraud alert" on a credit file at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a 1-year alert that is placed on a consumer's credit file with the credit reporting bureau. Upon seeing a fraud alert display on a consumer's credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer's identity before extending new credit. If you are a victim of identity theft, you are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting seven years. Should you wish to place a fraud alert, please contact any one of the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below.

As an alternative to a fraud alert, consumers have the right to place a "credit freeze" on a credit report, free of charge, which will prohibit a credit bureau from releasing information in the credit report without the consumer's express authorization. The credit freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in your name without your consent. However, you should be aware that using a credit freeze to take control over who gets access to the personal and financial information in your credit report may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application you make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit. Pursuant to federal law, you cannot be charged to place or lift a credit freeze on your credit report. To request a credit freeze, you will need to provide the following information:

1. Full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.);
2. Social Security number;
3. Date of birth;
4. Addresses for the prior two to five years;
5. Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill;
6. A legible photocopy of a government-issued identification card (state driver's license or ID card, military identification, etc.); and
7. A copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency filed by you concerning identity theft if you are a victim of identity theft.

Should you wish to place a fraud alert or credit freeze, please contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below:
