RE: NOTICE OF DATA BREACH

Dear <<First Name>> <<Last Name>>,

We are contacting you to provide information regarding a security incident at Fallon Ambulance Service (“Fallon”) that may have impacted some of your information and to inform you about steps you may take to help protect your information. Fallon was a medical transportation company that, in part, responded to patient emergencies in the greater Boston area and provided administrative services for affiliated medical transportation companies. Fallon ceased operations in December 2022 but, to comply with legal obligations, has maintained an archived copy of data previously stored on its computer systems.

What Happened

On or around April 21, 2023, after Fallon had ceased operations, we detected suspicious activity within our data storage archive. We promptly took steps to secure the archive and initiated a comprehensive investigation into the matter with the assistance of third-party specialists. After an extensive review of the event, we identified that the activity appears to have occurred as early as February 17, 2023 through April 22, 2023 and that files were obtained by an unauthorized party that may have contained personal information. We then conducted a comprehensive evaluation of the potentially impacted files to determine the nature of any personal information contained therein and to identify the current mailing address for potentially impacted individuals. This process was completed on or around December 27, 2023. Based on our review, we determined that the impacted files may have included certain of your personal information.

While we currently have no evidence of identity theft or fraud related to your information as a result of this matter, we are notifying you to provide you with information and steps you can take to help protect your information.

What Information Was Involved

The types of information that may have been impacted will depend on the information provided to Fallon but may include: <<Variable Text Data Elements>>. Again, at this time, we have no evidence of identity theft or fraud related to your personal information as a result of this incident.

What We Are Doing

We take the protection of your information very seriously, and we sincerely regret that this incident occurred. While Fallon is no longer operational, we have taken steps to secure data that may be stored in our archives for compliance with our legal obligations. Additionally, to help further protect your information, we are providing you with free identity protection services for two years, as described in detail in this letter. We also consulted with federal law enforcement in support of our investigation and response to this matter.

What You Can Do

As a best practice, we encourage you to remain vigilant for suspicious activity and to regularly review your financial statements and credit reports.

Order Your Free Annual Credit Report. You can order your free annual credit report online at www.annualcreditreport.com, by phone (toll free) at 877-322-8228, or by mail by submitting a completed Annual Credit Report Request Form to: Annual Credit Report Request Service, P.O. Box 105281, Atlanta, GA 30348-5281. You can download a copy of the request form on the FTC website: www.ftc.gov. You can also visit the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau's website for more information on how you can obtain your credit report for free: www.consumerfinance.gov. Once you receive your credit reports, review them carefully for any discrepancies. Identify any accounts you did not open or inquiries from creditors that you did not authorize. Verify all information is correct. If you have questions or notice incorrect information, contact the credit reporting agency.

Review Your Accounts and Report Unauthorized Activity. We recommend you remain vigilant with respect to reviewing your account statements and credit reports, and promptly report any suspicious activity or suspected identity theft to the proper law enforcement authorities, including local law enforcement, your state's attorney general, and/or the FTC. Carefully review your credit reports and bank, credit card, and other account statements. Be proactive and create alerts on credit cards and bank accounts to notify you of activity. If you discover unauthorized or suspicious activity on your credit report or by any other means, file an identity theft report with your local police and contact a credit reporting company. You may also consider filing or obtaining a police report.

Consider Placing a Fraud Alert on Your Credit File. To protect yourself from potential identity theft, you may consider placing a fraud alert on your credit file. A fraud alert is intended to make it more difficult for someone to open a new credit account in your name. A fraud alert indicates to an entity requesting your credit file that you suspect you are a victim of fraud. When you or someone else attempts to open a credit account in your name, increase the credit limit on an existing account, or obtain a new card on an existing account, the alert notifies the entity to take steps to verify your identity. You may contact one of the credit reporting agencies listed above for assistance.

Consider Placing a Security Freeze on Your Credit File. You also may consider implementing a security freeze (also called a "credit freeze"). Placing a freeze on your credit report restricts access to your credit report and will prevent lenders and others from accessing your credit report entirely. This means you (or others) will not be able to open a new credit account while the freeze is in place. You can temporarily lift the credit freeze if you need to apply for new credit. With a security freeze in place, you may be required to take special steps when you wish to apply for any type of credit. You may contact one of the credit reporting agencies listed above for assistance.

Remain Vigilant and Lookout for Phishing Schemes. We also encourage you to remain vigilant in managing and handling your personal information and be on the lookout for suspicious emails, such as phishing schemes. Phishing schemes are attempts by criminals to steal personal information, including credit card numbers and social security numbers, over email. These attempts are often made by manipulating an email to make it look as if it came from a legitimate source, but which are actually sent by a fraudulent impersonator. Pay particular attention to anyone asking you to click on a link or attachment, especially if the email requests sensitive information, and pay close attention to the email address (e.g., look for misspellings). It is also important that you check the recipient's email address when replying to emails to ensure it is legitimate. Also consider taking steps such as carrying only essential documents with you, being aware of how and with whom you are sharing your personal information, and shredding receipts, statements, and other sensitive information once you no longer need them.
