Dear <<Name 1>>:

Great Smoky Mountains Association (“GSMA”) values the relationship we have with our customers and understands the importance of protecting your information. We are writing to inform you that we identified and addressed a security incident which involved your payment card information. This notice explains the incident, measures that have been taken, and some steps you may consider taking in response.

What Happened? We concluded an investigation into a data security incident that was identified on December 18, 2021. Upon learning of the incident, we promptly took steps to secure our network, commenced an investigation, and a cybersecurity firm was engaged to assist us. Our investigation found evidence that an unknown party added an unauthorized code to a portion of our e-commerce platform. The code gathered and stored payment card information that was manually submitted by customers during the checkout process on our website between the dates of May 21, 2021 and December 18, 2021. We reviewed the transactions which took place on our website during the above timeframe, to determine what information may have been involved in this incident. This review was completed on March 17, 2022. We then conducted research to gather information to send notice to individuals whose information was involved in this incident.

What Information Was Involved? Our investigation determined that the information collected included your name, address, payment card number, expiration date and card security code.

What We Are Doing: GSMA takes this matter very seriously and we are continuing to enhance the security on our e-commerce platform to help prevent a similar incident from occurring in the future. We are also in the process of transitioning to a new checkout process with additional security features.

What You Can Do: We encourage you to closely review your payment card statements for any unauthorized charges. We recommend that you immediately report any such charges to the bank that issued your card. If reported timely, payment card network rules generally provide that cardholders are not responsible for unauthorized charges. Information on additional steps you can take can be found on the following pages.

For More Information: We regret any inconvenience or concern this may cause. If you have any questions, please contact us at 844-686-2099, Monday through Friday, between 9:00 A.M. – 9:00 P.M., Eastern Time (except for on major U.S. holidays).

Sincerely,

Laurel Rematore

You can obtain information from these sources about steps an individual can take to avoid identity theft as well as information about fraud alerts and security freezes. You should also contact your local law enforcement authorities and file a police report. Obtain a copy of the police report in case you are asked to provide copies to creditors to correct your records. Contact information for the Federal Trade Commission is as follows:

Fraud Alerts and Credit or Security Freezes:

Fraud Alerts: There are two types of general fraud alerts you can place on your credit report to put your creditors on notice that you may be a victim of fraud—an initial alert and an extended alert. You may ask that an initial fraud alert be placed on your credit report if you suspect you have been, or are about to be, a victim of identity theft. An initial fraud alert stays on your credit report for one year. You may have an extended alert placed on your credit report if you have already been a victim of identity theft with the appropriate documentary proof. An extended fraud alert stays on your credit report for seven years.

To place a fraud alert on your credit reports, contact one of the nationwide credit bureaus. A fraud alert is free. The credit bureau you contact must tell the other two, and all three will place an alert on their versions of your report.

For those in the military who want to protect their credit while deployed, an Active Duty Military Fraud Alert lasts for one year and can be renewed for the length of your deployment. The credit bureaus will also take you off their marketing lists for pre-screened credit card offers for two years, unless you ask them not to.

Credit or Security Freezes: You have the right to put a credit freeze, also known as a security freeze, on your credit file, free of charge, which makes it more difficult for identity thieves to open new accounts in your name. That's because most creditors need to see your credit report before they approve a new account. If they can't see your report, they may not extend the credit.

How do I place a freeze on my credit reports? There is no fee to place or lift a security freeze. Unlike a fraud alert, you must separately place a security freeze on your credit file at each credit reporting company. For information and instructions to place a security freeze, contact each of the credit reporting agencies at the addresses below:

- Experian Security Freeze, PO Box 9554, Allen, TX 75013, www.experian.com
- TransUnion Security Freeze, PO Box 2000, Chester, PA 19016, www.transunion.com
- Equifax Security Freeze, PO Box 105788, Atlanta, GA 30348, www.equifax.com

You'll need to supply your name, address, date of birth, Social Security number and other personal information.

After receiving your freeze request, each credit bureau will provide you with a unique PIN (personal identification number) or password. Keep the PIN or password in a safe place. You will need it if you choose to lift the freeze.

How do I lift a freeze? A freeze remains in place until you ask the credit bureau to temporarily lift it or remove it altogether. If the request is made online or by phone, a credit bureau must lift a freeze within one hour. If the request is made by mail, then the bureau must lift the freeze no later than three business days after getting your request.

If you opt for a temporary lift because you are applying for credit or a job, and you can find out which credit bureau the business will contact for your file, you can save some time by lifting the freeze only at that particular credit bureau. Otherwise, you need to make the request with all three credit bureaus.
