Dear <<first_name>> <<middle_name>> <<last_name>> <<suffix>>,

Squirrel Hill Health Center (“Squirrel Hill”) is writing to inform you of a recent event that may impact the privacy of some of your personal information. While we are unaware of any misuse of your information, we are providing you with information about the event, our response, and steps you may take to protect yourself.

What Happened? On February 4, 2021, Squirrel Hill became aware of suspicious activity on its computer network. Squirrel Hill immediately launched an investigation, with the assistance of third-party computer forensic specialists, and determined that its network had been infected with malware which prevented access to certain files on the system. The investigation determined that the malware was introduced into the system by an unauthorized actor and that certain files within Squirrel Hill’s systems were impacted. The activity occurred between January 28, 2021 and February 4, 2021. Squirrel Hill then began a lengthy and labor-intensive process to identify sensitive information that many have been contained within impacted files. Squirrel Hill is notifying those individuals whose information may have been impacted by this incident.

What Information Was Involved? The information contained within the files at issue may have included your <<b2b_text_1(DataElements)>>. We have no evidence any information was subject to actual or attempted misuse.

What is Squirrel Hill Doing? Squirrel Hill takes this incident and the security of personal information seriously. Upon discovery, Squirrel Hill immediately launched an investigation and took steps to secure its systems and investigate activity. Squirrel Hill worked diligently to investigate and respond to this incident and to identify and notify potentially impacted individuals. Squirrel Hill is also reviewing and enhancing existing policies, procedures, and processes related to storage of and access to personal information. Squirrel Hill is also reporting this incident to relevant state and federal regulators as required. Squirrel Hill is notifying potentially impacted individuals so that they may take further steps to best protect their information, should they feel it is appropriate to do so.

What Can Affected Individuals Do? While Squirrel Hill has no evidence that any personal information was subject to actual or attempted misuse, it encourages anyone who thinks their information may have been impacted to monitor financial accounts and explanation of benefits forms and notify their bank immediately if they detect unauthorized or unusual activity. You can also review the below Steps You Can Take to Help Protect Personal Information.

For more information. We understand some people may have additional questions concerning this incident. Individuals can direct questions to our dedicated call center at 1-???-???-????, 8:00 am to 5:30 pm Central Time Monday through Friday. You can also write to Squirrel Hill at 4516 Browns Hill Road, Pittsburgh, PA 15217.

Squirrel Hill apologizes for any inconvenience this may cause and remains committed to the privacy and security of all information it maintains.

Sincerely,

Squirrel Hill Health Center

STEPS YOU CAN TAKE TO PROTECT PERSONAL INFORMATION

Monitor Your Accounts

Under U.S. law, a consumer is entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. To order your free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. You may also directly contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below to request a free copy of your credit report.

Consumers have the right to place an initial or extended “fraud alert” on a credit file at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a 1-year alert that is placed on a consumer’s credit file. Upon seeing a fraud alert display on a consumer’s credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer’s identity before extending new credit. If you are a victim of identity theft, you are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting seven years. Should you wish to place a fraud alert, please contact any one of the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below.

As an alternative to a fraud alert, consumers have the right to place a “credit freeze” on a credit report, which will prohibit a credit bureau from releasing information in the credit report without the consumer’s express authorization. The credit freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in your name without your consent. However, you should be aware that using a credit freeze to take control over who gets access to the personal and financial information in your credit report may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application you make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit. Pursuant to federal law, you cannot be charged to place or lift a credit freeze on your credit report. To request a security freeze, you will need to provide the following information:

1. Full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.);
2. Social Security number;
3. Date of birth;
4. Addresses for the prior two to five years;
5. Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill;
6. A legible photocopy of a government-issued identification card (state driver’s license or ID card, military identification, etc.); and
7. A copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft if you are a victim of identity theft.

Should you wish to place a fraud alert or credit freeze, please contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below:
