Dear <<Name 1>>:

CyberOptics Corporation ("CyberOptics") is writing to inform you of a recent data security event that may have impacted certain information related to you. We are providing you with information about the event, our response, and steps you may take, should you feel it is appropriate to do so.

What Happened? On October 11, 2022, we identified suspicious activity in our computer network. In response, we began an investigation into the activity to determine its nature and scope. We also reported the event to federal law enforcement. Through our investigation, we determined that an unknown actor accessed our network, and certain files may have been viewed or downloaded without authorization between September 22, 2022 and October 11, 2022. In an abundance of caution, we reviewed the files that may have been impacted to determine what information may have been contained and to whom it related. We also undertook a time-intensive review of our internal records to locate address information for potentially affected individuals. We recently completed this review.

What Information Was Involved? The following types of information related to you were contained within the potentially impacted files: name and <<Breached Elements>>.

What We Are Doing. We take this event and the security of information in our care seriously. As part of our ongoing commitment to the privacy of information in our care, we implemented additional technical security measures to mitigate reoccurrence of this type of event. Further, we are also reviewing and enhancing existing policies and procedures related to information security. We are also offering complimentary access to twelve months of credit monitoring and identity restoration services through TransUnion.

What You Can Do. We encourage you to remain vigilant against incidents of identity theft and fraud by reviewing your account statements and free credit reports for suspicious activity and to detect errors. We also recommend you review the Steps You Can Take to Protect Personal Information section of this letter. Further, you may enroll in the offered complimentary credit monitoring and identity restoration services as an additional precaution. Enrollment instructions are enclosed with this letter.

For More Information. If you have additional questions, please contact our dedicated assistance line at 888-505-3114, Monday through Friday from 8:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m. Central time (excluding U.S. holidays). Monitor Your Accounts

Under U.S. law, a consumer is entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. To order your free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. You may also directly contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below to request a free copy of your credit report.

Consumers have the right to place an initial or extended “fraud alert” on a credit file at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a one-year alert that is placed on a consumer’s credit file. Upon seeing a fraud alert display on a consumer’s credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer’s identity before extending new credit. If you are a victim of identity theft, you are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting seven years. Should you wish to place a fraud alert, please contact any one of the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below.

As an alternative to a fraud alert, consumers have the right to place a “credit freeze” on a credit report, which will prohibit a credit bureau from releasing information in the credit report without the consumer’s express authorization. The credit freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in your name without your consent. However, you should be aware that using a credit freeze to take control over who gets access to the personal and financial information in your credit report may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application you make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit. Pursuant to federal law, you cannot be charged to place or lift a credit freeze on your credit report. To request a security freeze, you will need to provide the following information:

1. Full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.);
2. Social Security number;
3. Date of birth;
4. Addresses for the prior two to five years;
5. Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill;
6. A legible photocopy of a government-issued identification card (state driver's license or ID card, etc.); and
7. A copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft if you are a victim of identity theft.

Should you wish to place a credit freeze, please contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below:
